A John Glenn Close-Up

Astronaut Worthy of Youths' Adulation, Reporter Says;
Visits Home Folks On Eve of Orbital Flight

Two decades ago, Al Simpson, Brush-Moore special writer, and astronaut John Glenn were students at Muskingum College. The "double dated" together. Glenn courted young Annie Castor of New Concord, Simpson dated little Marion Yund, a freshman from Pittsburgh who roomed at the Castor's home. Both couples later were married and retained their long-ago close friendship. Simpson has written a series of articles, of which this is the first, about those early days. Soon he will leave for Cape Canaveral, Fla. to cover the Glenn orbital flight for Brush-Moore Newspapers.

By AL SIMPSON

NEW CONCORD, Ohio—It was the shank of the evening and I was pushing the old buggy to get home for supper.

As I passed the dam at Lake O'Springs (that's where I live) and glided into a curve at something less than orbital speed, I caught a glimpse of a crudely fashioned box-like structure.

Printed in large white letters on the weather-beaten boards of one side of the "box" was the name "John Glenn."

Since no one with that name lived in the neighborhood, I knew it had to be a make-believe space capsule fashioned by one of the millions of youthful admirers of our American astronaut, John Glenn.

WHAT KIND of man is John Herschel Glenn, who is destined for immortality following his orbital trip around the earth scheduled for next week?

Is he worthy of the adulation of the youth of the world? Much can be learned of a man from the place where his roots first took hold, from his home town particularly if it's a small Midwestern village like New Concord.

New Concord, 9 miles west of Cambridge and 15 miles east of Zanesville on U.S. Route 40, is the site of Muskingum College.

THE TOWN is part of the college and the college is an integral part of the town. Nestled in the scenic hills of Muskingum County, the community, with its educational and intellectual environment plus its strong religious atmosphere, is an ideal place for a boy to grow up.

I know, for I spent four wonderful years in New Concord as a Muskingum college student and I knew John Glenn while he was growing up.

My wife, Marion, knew John's wife, Annie, even better for she lived in the home of Annie's parents Dr. and Mrs. Homer Castor, while working for her board and room.

AND SO, as we drove down to New Concord two weeks ago today, to gather more information for this article, we were returning to familiar haunts to visit long-standing friends.

As we approached the village, we passed the spanking new high school, high on one of the hills north of the college campus, which may be named for the town's most famous son.

And then we were there, visiting first with Dr. and Mrs. Castor and then with John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn Sr. The two families live just a few hundred feet apart on the same street.

AT BOTH HOMES we chatted leisurely and enjoyably mostly about the man whose name will be on everyone's tongue next week, and his wife and children. In both homes we enjoyed the friendly comfort of wood-burning fires, a creature comfort associated with our college days we almost had forgotten.

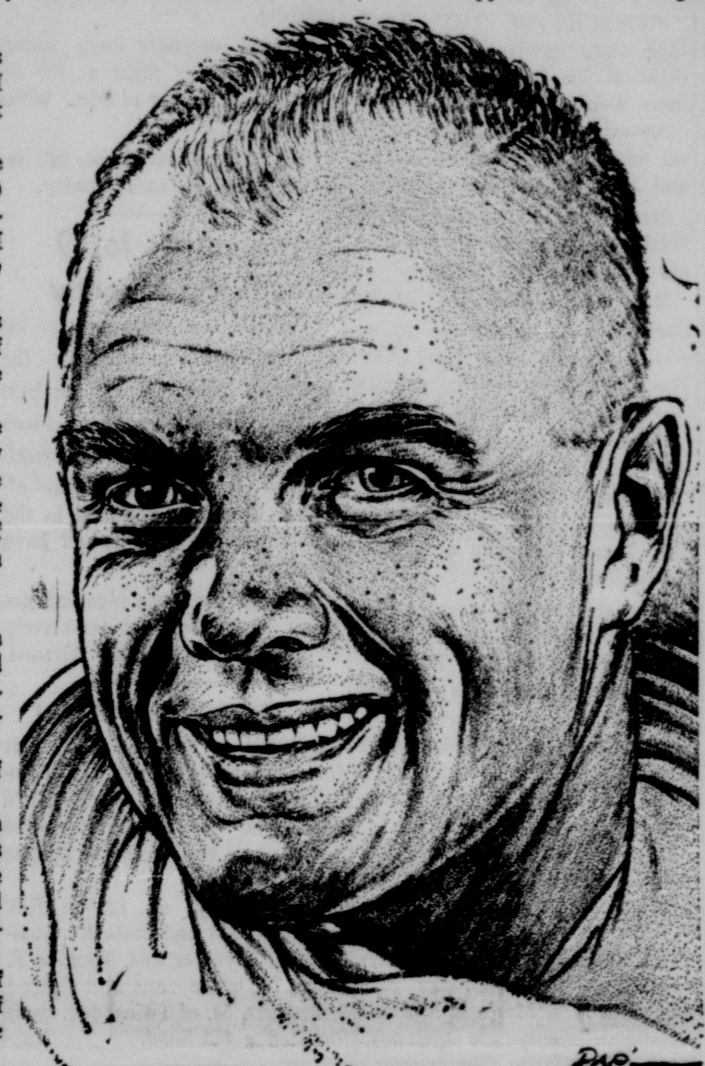

Astronaut Glenn has been described as being very articulate and I'm sure this is a fair appraisal. But when it comes to speaking about himself, his father-in-law says this of John: "John won't talk about himself much."

AND THIS also is true of John's wife, Annie. When I spoke with her on the telephone following our visit to New Concord and told her I was to go to Cape Canaveral, I couldn't get a word in sideways. She was so interested in the fact that I was "sure to be thrilled with the shot and everything at the Cape," that she didn't have time to say anything about herself.

Asked if he ever dreamed his son-in-law would succeed in the way he has, Dr. Castor replied with pride:

"I knew Johnnie and Annie had it but I didn't know they had so much of it."

ASKED IF HE could recall some special anecdotes about his daughter and her husband, the re-

Salem Man Hospitalized After Crash

A Salem man was hospitalized following one of five accidents on area highways Friday.

Robert A. Culler, 32, of RD 5, Salem, is reported in fairly good condition at Salem City Hospital, suffering from shock and exposure as the result of a mishap on Rt. 14 alternate, one mile west of Washingtonville, at 5:25 p.m.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Culler was traveling east when his car went out of control in a curve, went off the right side of the road and struck a guard rail.

An accident at 2:15 p.m. on Rt. 170, two miles north of Rt. 30, resulted in the arrest of Joseph Buchheit, 17, of East Liverpool. He was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Buchheit was traveling east when he attempted to turn left onto County Road 434 and ran into the path of a car driven by Allen D. Parks, 30, of Coraopolis, Pa., the patrol said.

At 2:55 p.m. a car driven by Jack Hague, 41, of East Liverpool and a wrecker operated by Kenneth E. Ferguson, 21, of Rt. 1, Lisbon, side-swiped on a bridge on Rt. 172, six miles northwest of Rt. 30.

A car driven north on Rt. 7, five miles north of Rt. 30, by Lewis A. Williams, 31, of East Liverpool went out of control on a curve, veered off the right side of the road, hit a guard rail and then collided with a car driven by Ronald E. Digman, 25, of Rt. 3, Lisbon, at 5 p.m.

Williams was arrested for unsafe operation.

At 8:45 p.m., a car operated by Elmer E. McGath, 43, of East Palestine crashed into a truck-trailer driven by Donald L. Burgess of Beaver Falls, Pa.

The patrol said McGath was going east on Rt. 14, four miles east of Columbiana, when he went off the right side of the road and then crossed back to the left and into the side of the other vehicle. McGath was arrested for unsafe operation.

May Have Attacked Another Mission

Rampaging Congolese Fire at 2 U.N. Planes

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Maudraiding Congolese troops held responsible for the massacre of white missionaries at Kongolo in northern Katanga Province fired at two U.N. reconnaissance planes today.

The Indian Canberra jets were sent in search of the troops who

New Guinea Parley Hopes Increase

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Prospects of negotiations aimed at settling the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over West New Guinea brightened today with news that Indonesia is sending an expert on the territorial issue to U.N. headquarters.

The Indonesian delegation disclosed that Sudjarwo Tjondronegoro, a top aide of Foreign Minister Subandrio, will arrive here Sunday. Sudjarwo, former chief of the delegation, represented his government in past U.N. debates on West New Guinea.

Delegates expressed belief Sudjarwo is being sent here in response to Acting Secretary-General U. Thant's appeal that Dutch and Indonesian representatives discuss with him the chances of a peaceful settlement.

The Netherlands government has accepted Thant's offer to act as mediator and proposed in turn that the U.N. chief send observers to West New Guinea where opposing naval forces already have clashed.

Sukardjo Wirjopranoto, Indonesia's present chief U.N. delegate who told a reporter Subandrio's aide was coming, said there was "something in the air." He did not elaborate.

Sources in Jakarta said President Sukarno has replied to Thant's proposal about negotiating a settlement, but did not disclose the contents of his message. Sukardjo saw Thant after the secretary-general had lunch with are also believed to have overrun a Roman Catholic mission and girl's school at Sola, 15 miles north of Kongolo. Th pilots reported houses were aflame south of Sola and that buildings on both sides of the Lualaba River were burned out.

About 200 Congolese troops were spotted by the Indian jets on the road between Sola and Kongolo and fired at the planes apparently only with rifles. Neither plane was damaged.

An aerial survey by Ethiopian U.N. pilots Friday showed houses in Sola afire and the mission compound deserted of civilians. However, the pilots reported seeing two Congolese soldiers run for the cover of a church and two trucks, presumably belonging to the army.

A U.N. spokesman said this "seems to indicate the worst—that the soldiers attacked the mission and are now in control of the compound."

The mission was staffed by about a dozen Europeans—six white priests and five or six white nuns of the Franciscan order—and included a teachers' training college for about 40 teen-age African girls.

Sola is on the Lualaba River 15 miles north of Kongolo, where 19 European priests and an unknown number of African civilians were slaughtered by Congolese troops on New Year's Day. The same troops are thought to be responsible for the slaughter of 13 Italian U.N. airmen in Kindu last November.

"Since the crews saw no people in the Sola mission compound we have no way of knowing what happened to the residents," a U.N. spokesman said.

There are no U.N. troops in the vicinity.

Col. Alphonse Pakassa, nominal commander of the troops now on rampage, was seized Friday within a half hour of his return to Stanleyville.

He reportedly rushed from north Katanga on learning that

JFK Already Looking To New Term

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy reached the end of his first year in the White House today—and obviously he already is looking ahead toward seven more.

Kennedy is certain of three additional years, and it is almost certain that he will try for another four, since he is one president who never has been particularly coy about running for reelection.

The major event on the Kennedy calendar for the day was a dinner in Washington's National Guard Armory. Thousands of Democrats were crowding in from all over the country for the $100-a-plate fund-raising rally featuring Kennedy as speaker.

Even from the weather standpoint, the day was reminiscent of inauguration day a year ago. Again Washington was cloaked in snow, although there was nothing like the six or eight inches dumped on the city on inauguration eve in 1961.

The President recalled that blizzard in chatting with reporters in New York Friday night, during a theater intermission. He took in the hit musical comedy, "How to

New Regime Tackles Dominican Problems

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic's fledgling Council of State got down today to the business of bringing democracy to this troubled Caribbean nation, which has known virtually nothing but strongman rule for more than three decades.

The council faced a mountain of economic and social problems left over from the regime of dictator Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, who ruled the nation as his private preserve for nearly 31 years before his assassination last May. But the council also had promises of generous U.S. economic assistance and the apparent support of most Dominicans.

Unfinished business also remained from the brief military takeover, which had been led by

Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria. Some political elements, although considered of lesser influence, shouted for Rodriguez Echavarria and former President Joaquin Balaguer to be tried as traitors.

Balaguer headed the council during its first 16 days, until Rodriguez Echavarria in a coup Tuesday night installed a military-dominated junta. A swift counter-coup led by Rodriguez Echavarria's own officer subordinates Thursday restored the council and made the general a prisoner.

Rafael Bonnelly, the 57-year-old lawyer-professor who succeeded Balaguer in the presidency, said that Balaguer and Rodriguez Echavarria "will be submitted to

Moscow Quiet Hints at Big Development

Western Diplomat Says Red China Probably Involved

MOSCOW (AP)—Western diplomats pictured the strange quiet emanating from the Kremlin today as a mask for a major development in the wind.

Exactly where it will blow no Western diplomat was brash enough to predict. But one of the most respected Western ambassadors in Moscow said he believed it was much more likely to involve Red China than Berlin.

Noting that Soviet foreign and domestic policy seems pretty much on dead center, this diplomat said there never has been a period of quiet like this without it exploding into some major move.

Major Disagreement On

The diplomat, who is in close contact with high members of the Soviet government, said it was obvious that a major disagreement was going on. What was not clear, he said, was whether it was a squabble among top members of the Soviet Communist party or more widespread among members of the Soviet bloc.

Western diplomats also suggested that Premier Khrushchev is engaged in an ideological battle with V. M. Molotov, the Stalinist former premier and foreign minister. They said Khrushchev may have suffered a setback.

The Western ambassadors were almost united in a belief that Molotov's return to Vienna has been delayed only because the old Bolshevik doesn't want to be shunted off again to such a minor job as Soviet representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

Fought Expulsion Move

Molotov held that post when he and other members of the so-called anti-party group were denounced by Khrushchev at the 22nd Soviet party congress last October. Molotov returned to Moscow Nov. 12 to fight a move to expel him from the Communist party.

Western officials believed then he would not be heard from again in an official Soviet capacity, but the foreign ministry announced Jan. 8 that Molotov was returning to Vienna to take up his post again.

Molotov never showed up, and the Soviet government and the party have since refused public comment on his case.

Boasting the belief of an ideological struggle was the fresh denouncement of Molotov in Wednesday's Communist party newspaper Pravda, as a dogmatic opponent of Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence, which the newspaper called "the most important question of our time."

New Snow Storms Whip Nation

Severe Cold Weather Maintains Firm Grip

By The Associated Press
Severe cold weather maintained a grip on most of the northern half of the nation today as the job of digging out from under another heavy snowfall began.

One storm hit the Pacific Northwest, bringing blizzard conditions to parts of Oregon as it pushed into the northern Rockies. Klama Falls, Ore., was staggered by a 12-inch snowfall.

Another storm moved across the country to the Appalachians where it appeared to be losing its punch. It dumped 14 inches on Kansas City and lesser amounts in the East, snarling traffic and closing schools.

A Greyhound bus skidded off U.S. 52 near Ironton, Ohio, injuring two persons. Officials in St. Louis, which had five inches of new snow, said their supply of salt for snow removal was running low due to slowed river barge movements on the Mississippi.

The snow belt also extended into the Middle Atlantic states, creating hazardous driving conditions in Delaware, Maryland, the Virginias and western Pennsylvania. A mixture of sleet, rain and drizzle fell in the western Carolinas.

The Weather Bureau termed the storm in the northern Rockies potentially severe and said it appeared to be headed for the Plains states. The bureau posted heavy snow warnings for parts of Kansas and Nebraska and said high winds and cold threatened the area with drifting and near blizzard conditions.

Temperatures skidded to sub-zero levels again in the northern and central Plains states. The coldest spots reported at midnight were Phillip and Huron, S.D., with -23. It was -20 at Worland, Wyo.

Freezing readings were reported in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. Wichita Falls, Tex., had a reading of 10 degrees shortly after midnight, a record low for Jan. 20. Freezing rain was reported in Tennessee.

Drizzle and fog dampened much of the Southeast as temperatures remained in the 40s and 50s.

The only temperatures above 60 during the night were in southern Florida. Readings of 72 were reported at Miami and Key West.

Seven Arrested In Swoop at Reading, Pa.

Hoover Describes Illegal Operation As Biggest In East

READING, Pa. (AP) — More than 100 FBI agents drove with sledgehammers into a downtown building today and broke up what they termed one of the largest gambling setups in the East.

More than 150 patrons were seized at three dice tables.

Agents, many armed with automatic weapons, ripped the bars from windows and broke down the front door with a sledgehammer to gain entrance.

Seven Men Arrested

The FBI said seven men were arrested and 100 others slated as material witnesses. All were herded from the building into three buses, borrowed from the U. S. Army, and taken to the Navy-Marine Armory for hearings. Three other men were arrested in New Jersey.

More than $25,000 in cash was seized from the gaming tables. More money was found in a safe, but agents said it had not been counted yet.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in a statement released in Washington, said an investigation had determined the "gambling games had been operated continuously since mid-November, 1961."

Surveillance indicated, he said, that people were traveling to and from other states in connection with the nightly gambling.

200 Persons On Weekends
He added that on weekends as many as 200 persons took part in the play at several tables.

Hoover identified two men arrested in New Jersey as Anthony La Monica, 38, Trenton, and Pasquale Pillo, 52, and Querimo A. Dantino, both of Camden.

The FBI said among those arrested in Reading were: George Barrow, 57, Yeadon, Penn.; Frank La Scalzo, 72, Philadelphia; Simon Rudolph, 58, Nesquehoning,

Warren Bribe Case Goes To Jurors

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A jury starts deliberations today on the fate of Frank A. Cicikelli, Trumbull County Democratic chairman—whether he is innocent or took part in a $235,000 bribery conspiracy.

Common Pleas Judge G. H. Birrell charged the jury for 45 minutes Friday and was to give final instructions today.

Cicikelli took the stand Friday to deny taking "even 35 cents" from contractors on a $4.5-million sewer project here. He denied every allegation against him in four other charges.

After Cicikelli's testimony, prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith Jr. called FBI agent Howard Cecil in rebuttal. Cecil said that last October Cicikelli denied the presence of Paul A. LaMonge at a meeting between the contractors and Cicikelli. LaMonge was described by state witnesses earlier in the trial as Cicikelli's agent, who had threatened to kill two contractors.

One of Cicikelli's attorneys, George Buchwalter, said in final argument: "This is the case of the man who wasn't there. In 75 per cent to 80 per cent of the testi-

America Is Really Going to Town---

America's transfiguration from an agricultural to an industrialized urban nation is graphically shown in newspaper and chart above.

In 1790, when the first census was taken, the population (total: 3.9 million) was 95 per cent rural; in 1960, (total: 179 million), it was 70 per cent urban. Today, only 11 states in the Union are predominately rural; 31 are over 50 per cent urban; 8 are more than 75 per cent urban.

In 1790, population density was 4.5 people per square mile; today it is 51.

Among the states, density ranges from Alaska, with one person for every 2½ square miles, to Rhode Island, with 812 per square mile. A new Cabinet post—Secretary of Urban Affairs—is a possibility. (Data: Population Reference Bureau).

Moon Shot Delayed By Fueling Mishap

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A fueling mishap with the Atlas booster rocket has resulted in at least a four-day delay of an attempt to launch the Ranger 3 spacecraft to the moon.

When the problem developed during a checkout of the Atlas Friday, project officials at first felt the launching would have to be postponed for at least a month.

But a reevaluation showed there was a possibility the difficulty could be corrected in time for a Friday firing. But the officials said the chances were slim. The shot had been scheduled Monday.

Friday is the last day of a five-day period when the moon is in a favorable position for the firing. The next optimum period starts about Feb. 20.

Ranger 3 is intended to take television pictures as it nears the moon, then detach an instrument package which is to land on the surface and radio back information on moonquakes and meteor hits.

4 Seek Court Order To Reopen Church

LISBON — Two deacons and two members of the Second Baptist Church of East Liverpool have asked Common Pleas Court for an injunction against the church and seven of its trustees, forcing them to open the facilities of the church which has been padlocked since Jan. 1.

J. M. Christian, Robert Thomas, deacons, and Mamie Taylor and Mack Jerrith claim that Justin A. Richardson, McKinley Parks, Daniel Henderson, Ernest Stewart, J. B. Arkward, John Chavis and John Shingly, trustees, padlocked the church without the congregation's authority.

Tentative hearing date has been set for Jan. 25 at 1 p.m.

Deputies Probing Attempted Burglary

LISBON — Columbiana County sheriff's deputies are investigating an attempted burglary at the Standard Oil Bulk Station on Rt. 344, just southwest of Columbiana, Thursday evening.

Columbiana police called the sheriff's office at 8:29 p.m. after someone had broken the window in the building, setting off the burglary alarm.

Nothing was taken. Deputies believe the burglars were scared away when the alarm went off.

AME Zion Women Plan Annual Event

Plans for the Annual Women's Day March 25 was the order of business when the women of A.M.E. Zion Church met recently.

Reserves Pool Under Study

Men Would Be Put On Advance Notice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon may form a special pool of Reservists and put the men on advance notice that they would be the first to be called up to fill out understrength Reserve units in future Cold War crises.

The object would be to prevent repetition of difficulties in the recent Berlin crisis call-up.

Some Reservists who were ordered to active duty complained they should have been exempted because of family responsibilities. Others contended men with less active service should have been mustered first.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara disclosed current Pentagon thinking on Reservists Friday as he appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee to outline the department's budget for the next fiscal year. It seeks authority to obligate $54 billion, including $48.3 billion in direct expenditures.

He also outlined a five-year plan to boost U.S. armed might to cope with Soviet military advances. But he wouldn't put a price tag on it because "we do not have a very high degree of confidence in our estimates beyond 1963."

The secretary testified behind closed doors but a censored version of his opening 122-page statement was made public.

McNamara said no final decisions have been made on the proposed special Reservist pool.

He said, "To avoid the administrative problems that occurred in the recent call-up" a special pool of men with Reserve obligations would be created within the larger Ready Reserve reinforcement pool.

Preferably, he said, the pool would consist of men who had only six months of full-time training before entering the Reserves.

"These persons would be carefully screened to eliminate all those not available for immediate recall for reasons of occupation, family status, etc. and would be the first to be called as individual fillers for the priority Reserve units to be added to the active Army," the Pentagon chief said.

2 Get Prison Terms For Kent Bank Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—George Edward Boardley, 21, of Burton Lakes, and Louis George Zak, 26, of Newbury, each was sentenced today to 12 years in prison for the $24,210 robbery of the West Side Branch of the Portage National Bank at Kent last Nov. 10.

Edwin Timothy Galbraith, 19, of Parkman, charged as an accessory after the fact in connection with the robbery, changed his plea to innocent before U.S. District Judge Charles J. McNamee, who sentenced Boardley and Zak.

Boardley was arrested at a motel here Dec. 2, just two days after Zak was apprehended. Galbraith was arrested the next day in Los Angeles. FBI agents said they found $4,197 in cash in an apartment where Galbraith had been staying in Bell Gardens, a Los Angeles suburb.

A few hours after Zak was arrested, he took FBI agents to a gravel pit near Newbury where $12,000 in cash was found in a paper bag hidden under a workshed.

Galbraith had entered a guilty plea at a hearing Dec. 28. He was to be sentenced today. Judge McNamee continued his bond at $15,000.

County Home Building Nears Completion

LISBON — About three days of work is all that is needed to complete a 30-40-foot building at the County Home which will be used temporarily as a dog pound.

The new building was authorized when the County Home began selling milk to a dairy and was ordered to get the dogs out of the barn away from the cattle.

The block building with shingle roof has cost the commissioners approximately $3,165. Lumber was used from the county home woods, and part of the labor was done by employees at the home.

If and when the commissioners build a pound, the building at the home will be used for storage and a machine shop, chairman Galen Grenisen said.

Pray For Speeding Success

It is being pointed out that American railroads now are in their second round of mergers. The first round, little lines that had been built on financial speculation, were put together in service combinations. This round, the service combinations that emerged from the first round are putting together their resources for financial security.

The public is more than an interested spectator.

It is more than a stockholder. It is a partner in railroad deficits. It must pray for the speedy success of every merger that promises to get rid of red ink in favor of black ink.

The public is a partner not only in railroad deficits but in all the potential transportation deficits that are plaguing operating companies.

AIRLINE MERGERS and truckline mergers are in the works and in the offing. While railroad troubles are related to declining use of rail facilities, parts of the transportation industry with increasing use are in financial trouble, too.

Their costs of operation keep going up faster than their ability to earn money. They are caught in a squeeze between ever-mounting labor rates and ever-growing costs of material.

Railroads estimate that federal, state and local governments have spent $162 billion since 1955 on highways, waterways, airways, airports and related facilities used by competing commercial carriers and on airline subsidies.

Last August, the Interstate Commerce Commission estimated that if all railroad lines eligible for subsidies applied for them then and there to cover passenger deficits, the initial drain would be at least $32 million.

Railroad spokesmen have pointed to the prospect that government ownership of railroads might come through the back door if rail lines are forced to borrow so much federal money to meet their obligations they cannot repay what they owe.

RAILROAD MERGERS are not a theory to be discussed at leisure. Nor are airline mergers or any of the combinations that businessmen seek in order to get control of rising costs.

In railroads and airlines, moreover, the government and its taxpayers have a vital and immediate interest. Either they make enough money to pay their way or they will get public money to keep them in business for the good and sufficient reason the country cannot exist without them.

It is a weird outcome of a badly confused situation in which the public conceals from itself the extent of its own greed by meeting deficits with subsidies and loans, instead of paying what transportation service actually costs.

Fast Buck Has No Conscience

In November 1957, voters in New York State legalized bingo. Voters in New York City thereupon did likewise the next November, under the local option provision in the new state law.

The whole farcical project was watched with interest by observers who knew what the New Yorkers — both state and city — were getting into and who knew that most New Yorkers knew this themselves but were going to bull through a proposition destined to blow up in their face.

The proposition was that bingo could be made honest and above board if it was legalized.

The corollary proposition was that legalized bingo could do even better what bingo had been doing for religions and organizations for years without benefit of legality — produce scads of money for worthy causes.

A state law and local option decisions made under the state law would drive to cover all the crooks, chiselers, racketeers and fast-buck artists who had moved in on the bingo racket and were spoiling it for assorted "good" organizations that valued it as an income producer.

To all this, observers who knew what New York was getting into muttered derogatory whom. This was away back in 1957 when the remarks and wondered who was kidding argument was hot and heavy.

This week New York has available for study the report of a state inquiry into bingo which says the setup is shot through and through with corruption and the same dark and unsavory characters who had moved into the racket before have shown up again.

"The result has been," says the report, "that undesirable elements have been only mildly deterred in their activities in various fields associated with bingo. The professional promoters who operated before the laws were passed and who were all well known to law enforcement officials all continued their operations after legislation."

The moral: A fast buck has no conscience and obeys no laws that get in its way.

Stockpiling Won't Be Stopped

When President Kennedy and other spokesmen for his administration talk about the steel industry in a tone of hopefulness instead of candor, they do themselves and the country no good.

For example, their statements about holding down steel prices and coming to quick and equitable agreements about wages, to take away the reason for stockpiling, sound suspiciously like some of the plaintive statements we used to get from Washington about please don't hoard soap and so on and

Library Appreciation

Except for the depression years in the early thirties, book circulation at the Salem Public Library hasn't been equalled.

The librarian's report for 1961, published yesterday, showed a total of 7,114 registered borrowers — 2,635 of them being new. Book circulation itself was 161,231 — a gain of 30,201 over the previous year.

There are many other facets of library work which show that the Salem public has a high degree of appreciation for its fine library and the conscientious staff workers and trustees who try hard to maintain a library that the community can be proud of.

There are 46,690 books on the tidy shelves in the brightly lit rooms. If you haven't been there lately, you'll be impressed with the many improvements, including an enlarged children's department.

Once Over

What United Nations needs most is a good BILL COLLECTOR. It could also use a "bouncer" and adopt slogan "PLEASE REMIT." It is opening 1962 session up to neck in debt.

Instead of promoting peace it is getting into war with U.S. Congress over whether it's up to Uncle Sam to buy most of the bonds needed to keep going.

U.N. was organized to promote better understandings, but can't get members to understand they should pay dues and assessments.

Bond issue is like selling shares in a corporation to make life easier for people who won't pay what they owe. It is only club on earth in which members can wreck institution and leave THE BILL TO SOMEBODY ELSE. Day in and day out it presents a spectacle of orators tearing up "Please remit" letters while lecturing everybody on peace AT ANY COST.

FEAT OF THE YEAR in movies is performed by Rosalind Russell, a Connecticut Yankee out of Waterbury, who does a wonderful job playing a Bronx housewife in "A Majority of One." It was played by Gertrude Goldberg and Mollie Picon, but Rosalind does it to perfection.

Don't Shoot 'til You Hear Their Boston Accent!

JFK and McCormack

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Time, circumstance, and fate have decreed that for the immediate future the two most powerful forces in the United States will be held by citizens of Massachusetts. Both incumbents are Democrats and deeply dedicated and skillful politicians.

The question in every informed political mind is how well the President and the speaker of the House of Representatives will cooperate in pushing the Kennedy program.

The answer to this question cannot rest upon the verbal assurances of cooperation from both sources. What else could either say for publication?

A complete answer may not be possible until the acts are completed and the game is over. But since the roots of the relationship between the Kennedys and the McCormacks go back into the personalities and factionalism of Massachusetts politics, I have asked for an answer from an old friend in the Bay State who, over the years, has provided me with most accurate and wise information about affairs in that complex commonwealth.

He holds no public office and aspires to none. But he knows most of the major actors in the political life of the state.

He said that, considering the extent of his acquaintance in Massachusetts, he knows very little about John McCormack at first hand.

THE NEW SPEAKER has always been a man who has confined his political operations largely to the small enclave in South Boston which is his congressional constituency.

His responsibilities in Washington have kept him immersed in national affairs. He is not a gregarious man. A somewhat cold exterior, however, discreetly veils strong feelings and purposes.

On the other hand, my correspondent points out that the ties of John Fitzgerald Kennedy with his state have always been very thin.

Father Joseph maintained, except on occasions, a considerable aloofness from the hardy, turbulent life of Massachusetts politics. His preference for Cape Cod as a residence placed him with many other Massachusetts individuals who have had a limited kinship with the teeming life of Boston.

This was accentuated by the maintenance of several other places of residence for some years in Bronxville, New York, and Palm Beach. Also, his father's immense business affairs and his government service at home and abroad were well removed from the former Hub of the Universe.

John F. Kennedy sought and obtained a seat in Congress from the 11th District. But as they say in Massachusetts, he was a "mattress voter" in that district. Nominally, but not really a resident.

John McCormack, on the other hand, loved his district and lived in it except during his attendance in Congress.

Paul A. Dever, as governor and a power in politics, controlled the Democratic party in the state until his death, when the younger Kennedys pushed in to control, shoving McCormack aside in the process.

THE "OTHER" McCormack is the speaker's nephew. Since the elder McCormacks have no children, the younger and highly intelligent and respected Edward McCormack, now attorney general of the state, is the very apple of his uncle's eye. There is powerful affection between the two.

In 1956, when John F. Kennedy aspired to the vice presidential nomination, there was also a sharp factional conflict between the McCormacks and the Kennedys.

While the picture is not clear, it is evident that in the 1956 convention fight between John F. Kennedy and Estes Kefauver for the nomination, John McCormack was far from an ardent supporter of the President-to-be.

In the years following, things were quiet between the factions but it is believed that McCormack wanted the appointment to the Senate seat vacated by the President-elect to go to nephew Edward. Instead, the appointment went to Benjamin Smith, a personal friend of Kennedy.

THE CONTEST which is emerging is a really bitter fight for the senatorial nomination this year between the two Edwards: Ed McCormack and Ted Kennedy. The younger McCormack certainly will run. And if Ted Kennedy runs against him, McCormack will probably win.

If Edward McCormack loses, however, he will probably return to his good law practice and enter retirement with honor and contentment not to be buffeted further by the gales of politics.

It is hardly necessary to discuss the degree of fervor with which John McCormack will act in the President's behalf. It is sufficient to say that even if the speaker tries his best, his power in the House will be much less than was Rayburn's.

It is certain that McCormack will hold firm to the traditions and prerogatives of the House. That means that Presidential pressure on members will be most circumspect, if Messrs. John F. and Robert Kennedy are as wise as their experience should have made them. For the McCormacks don't like to be pushed around.

Congo Trusteeship?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Need Cited After Failures by U.N.

The massacre of at least 18 missionaries and many other civilians in the Congo points up the failure of the United Nations expedition to restore order and to impress the native troops the lives and property of foreign citizens must be respected.

So much emphasis has been placed on self-determination and independence for the African countries that relatively little attention has been paid to the utter indifference of many local groups to the need for protecting foreign residents.

The U.N. has admitted many countries as members which are incapable of self-government at this time. They will certainly not be educated or trained for this role unless the U.N. is willing to take steps to punish the murderers and enforce principles of international law.

Unfortunately, massacres have occurred in recent months without any action having been taken by the U.N., and it may be that the native groups now feel free to do as they please in the belief that no disciplinary action will ever be taken from the outside.

It wasn't so many years ago when powerful nations were quick to take punitive steps if any of their own citizens or their property were molested. In recent years the propaganda against colonialism — stimulated by Communist sources — has caused the major powers to hesitate to use force to protect their nationals. They are reaping the consequences of their policy of neglect.

Some of the big mining interests which have invested huge sums in the Congo have built hospitals and schools. They have performed many services similar to those which the Peace Corps of the United States is being widely publicized as planning to do in Africa.

But the big foreign interests now find their properties imperiled and their employees threatened so that continuity of mining operations has been made very difficult.

SOONER OR LATER the U.N. will have to go back to first principles in international law — acts that assure the protection of the lives and property of foreign residents.

To read that 18 priests — 16 Belgian and 2 Dutch citizens — were "whipped, mowed down by gunfire, and their bodies horribly mutilated," with the same kind of treatment accorded other civilians, brings to mind similar instances of savagery which have occurred in Africa since independence was granted to various colonies there.

The fact that each one of the African countries, even if it has only a population of 500,000, now has a vote equal to that of the United States in the U.N. General Assembly will make Americans wonder if some revamping of the whole charter is not in order.

Voting strength in the U.N. should be based on the literate population.

This might give Russia a few more votes than it has today, but it would also give Latin-American countries more votes and more to the other countries of the free world.

Actually, the Soviet Union today has more votes in the U.N. than does the United States. This was agreed to be the Roosevelt administration in 1945 on the theory that the free world would still have a huge majority.

Unfortunately, with the admission of half-civilized countries of Africa, it is easy for the Communists today to infiltrate them and obtain control of their votes in the U.N.

THE RECENT massacres in the Congo, for instance, are being attributed to troops under the leadership of Antoine Gizenga, a Communist stooge who was then deputy premier of the Central Congo Government.

There will be little chance of seeing a U.N. resolution passed which would authorize collective military action against the perpetrators of the atrocities just reported from Leopoldville.

The soldiers who committed the crime were in the forces of the Central Congolese Government, which is fully recognized by the U.N. unless steps are taken to hold the Central Government accountable for what has happened and a show of military force is made, the incidents are likely to be repeated.

The time for forceful action to protect foreign lives and property in the Congo would seem to be at hand.

Whenever a country shows itself totally incapable of self-government, the establishment of an international trusteeship would appear to be a logical formula to apply. The Congo is desperately in need of such a set-up. It can be continuously supervised by the U.N. complete self-government could be granted when the capacity to live up to international obligations was assured.

Chance for Survival

Thanks to a quarter of an hour curled up with "Fallout Protection — What To Know and Do About Nuclear Attack," I have attained peace of mind about this potential emergency.

I wish I could attain as much peace of mind about some more worrisome emergencies that could befall. Maybe our great, good government will follow its pamphlet on staying alive in a nuclear war with equally sharp advice on staying alive, solvent and in possession of dignity in other situations encountered in our troubled times.

In the event of nuclear attack, it's simple. Either you're atomized in the blast, in which case there's nothing to worry about, or you're alive afterward. In that case you have two things to worry about. Either you're badly burned, blind and shot through with radioactive poisoning, in which case there's nothing to worry about because you've had it, or you're in good shape. If you're in good shape you have two things to worry about.

Either you're caught a long way from home base with nothing to eat and no place to be secure from the fallout that would follow the blast, in which case you might as well throw in your hat, or you have shelter, food and a chance for survival.

The government's clearly and clearly written pamphlet convinced me I have the chance, lacking only three minor items — a short piece of hose with a leak-proof shutoff nozzle, a couple of chairs and a can opener.

The can opener is for delicacies in cans and jars in the storage cupboard just outside a steel and concrete and tile cubicle that used to be a coal cellar. Staple food will be dry dog food washed down with a trickle of water from the hose, which will be attached to the faucet on the bottom of the water pressure tank. As a matter of fact it could be attached to the bottom of either the hot water tank or the pressure tank.

It must be assumed there would be no electricity after a nuclear blast.

It must be assumed there would be no communication.

It must be assumed that for as long as a fortnight all survivors would have to make it on what they had at hand when they took cover.

And it must be assumed, while we're assuming, that the one thing people might run out of first is self-control. It might be more critical than water.

With human beings cooped up in tight quarters day after day, not knowing what was going on outside, not knowing what was going to happen next and suddenly stripped of all amenities of life it might be evident there was worse things than being dead.

I think my family and I could make it if we had a chance to get snuggled down in time for the fallout of radioactive particles that would follow a nuclear blast.

Why am I confident?

Because we have been holed up together for so long a few more weeks wouldn't be forever and have grown so accustomed to such simplicities as would be de rigueur in a fallout shelter that it would be like more of the same only more so.

It would be, I believe, the less so people who would take it hardest — the ones accustomed to bright lights and double doses of the abundant life. And this I say with full awareness that below my family are families even more accustomed to simplicities than we are, which makes me wonder who has the best chance of survival if nuclear war occurs — people who would lose everything or people with nothing to lose.

W. L. Houger, Chester L. Roof and Howard R. Schaefer, assistant vice presidents; M. E. Hollinger, George C. Equizi and Karl L. Stoudt, assistant cashiers; Eleanor McMurray, auditor; Richard L. Greene, assistant cashier and manager of South Side Office; C. R. McKenzie, assistant vice president and manager of the Lisbon Office; C. A. Faust, assistant cashier and assistant manager of Lisbon Office, and Lee E. Bowman, assistant vice president and manager of the Hanoverton Office.

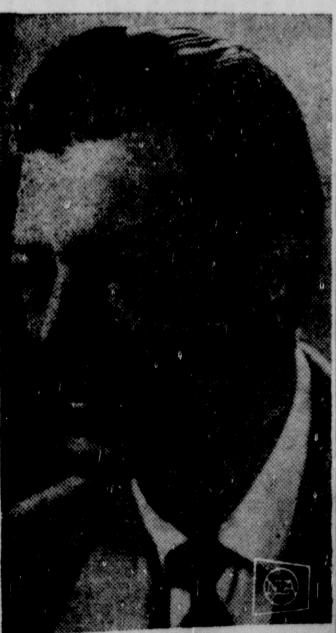

Notes Economic Upswing

In his report Mr. Stephenson commented on the economic upswing in the area serviced by the bank and mentioned as major highlights the reactivation of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. and their properties in Salem, the designation of Salem as headquarters for the Heavy Equipment Division of E. W. Bliss Co. and the beginning of actual production at the Nease Chemical Co. plant.

He stated that the bank had enjoyed a good year earnings-wise and that at the year end the bank's undivided profits and reserve account stood at $361,241 as compared to a $309,442 balance at the beginning of the year.

He noted that in the 20-year period between 1941 and 1961 the bank's resources had grown from $3,000,000 to approximately $24,000,000, and that the capital, surplus and undivided profits accounts had increased from $280,000 to $1,860,000.

The following members of the Lisbon Advisory Board were re-appointed: Galen S. Bye, W. D. Edgerton, H. W. Kepner, Dr. Julien S. Jones, R. D. Miller, F. J. Moore, G. C. Rauch, Perry L. Rigby, and A. P. Rudibaugh.

There was reason to believe any punishment of Rodriguez Echavarría would not be severe. Two months ago he was a hero to Dominicans for fronting the air force uprising that thwarted an attempt by Trujillo's relatives to bring back his kind of iron-fisted rule.

Balaguer was at his comfortable home on the city's western outskirts. Three armed guards stood outside, but Balaguer told a reporter he did not consider himself under arrest and described the guards as his usual escort.

Balaguer told an interviewer he had refused to yield to demands for his resignation because he feared a military move takeover. He disclaimed responsibility for the violence between Tuesday and Thursday, when Rodriguez Echavarría was in command.

The United States made plain its pleasure at the turn of events against the military-dominated junta.

A U.S. spokesman in Washington said "prompt action" would be taken on recommendations of a U.S. mission for sizable economic help for the hard-pressed Dominican Republic, including U.S. purchases of $45 million of sugar over the next six months.

The U.S. aid will give the state council a big boost in its efforts to get the island nation back on its economic feet. An estimated 45 per cent of the work force is unemployed and foreign monetary reserves—for buying badly needed goods abroad—were nearly cleaned out by the fleeing Trujillos.

his onetime commander and good friend, leftist Antoine Gizenga, had been deposed as deputy premier and placed under house arrest.

Gizenga was flown today in a U.N. plane to Leopoldville from Stanleyville where he spent three months in self-exile and unsuccessfully attempted a rebellion last weekend.

The U.N. plane was furnished at the request of the central government, and the leftist leader was lodged at U.N. headquarters as a "guest"—but under guard.

Gizenga probably faces legal proceedings as a result of a parliamentary resolution of censure on charges of insurrection.

The mutinous Congolese troops, operating in a wide area of north Katanga and Kivu Province, also were once largely loyal to Gizenga. Now they seem loyal to no one and apparently beyond the control of their officers.

succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

He had flown from Washington to New York to keep a luncheon appointment in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel suite of Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. The only other guest was U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations.

It was the first meeting between Kennedy and Thant.

Stevenson fed his distinguished guests the same thing he had had for lunch the day before—not leftovers, a White House official insisted, but a new batch of shrimp and artichoke casserole. Stevenson liked it so well that he wanted the President to have it, said the assistant White House press secretary, Andrew I. Hatcher.

Afterward, presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said that a number of major issues confronting the United Nations were reviewed during the two-hour talks. Kennedy, he said, made the trip to New York "to indicate the great interest that the United States has in the United Nations and the support of the United States government for the United Nations."

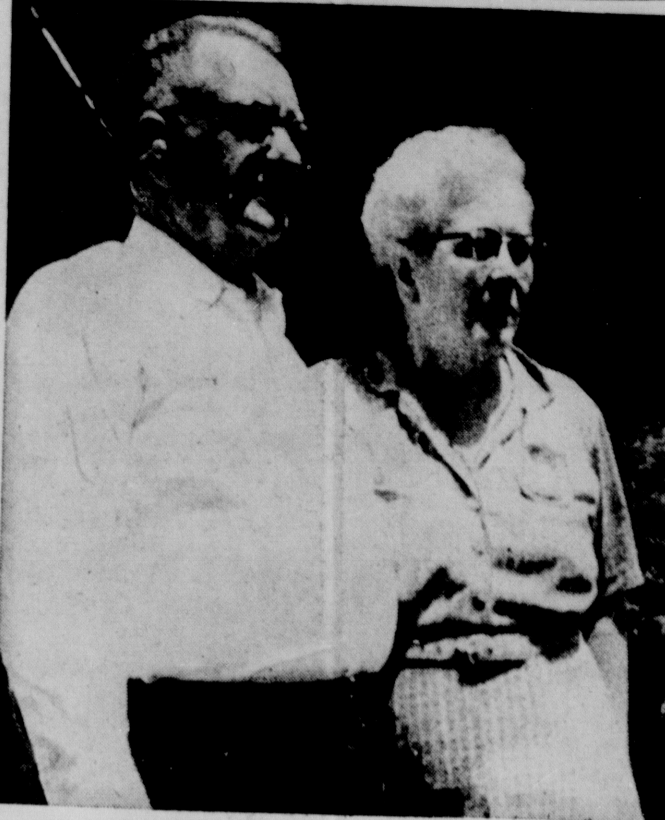

It was likely, also, that Kennedy's bid to Congress to buy $100 million of bonds to help out the United Nations financially came up for discussion.

After the luncheon, Kennedy drove to his New York headquarters at the Carlyle Hotel and spent the afternoon. Part of it was in a conference with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York.

Wagner said afterward that they talked politics generally and also got into the problem of urban renewal and Kennedy's recommendation that Congress establish by law a new cabinet post of urban affairs.

To a question whether he would like to have such a job, Wagner replied: "No, I am the mayor of New York."

Kennedy and an old friend, New York investment banker Charles Spalding, had dinner in the Kennedy suite, then drove to the 46th Street Theater.

tired dentist said he ought to be able to.

"John was around here enough," HE SAID. "He about lived here." John and Annie had "gone together" since high school days.

When we mentioned that we had observed the way in which Annie and John staunchly "witness" their religious faith (they are United Presbyterians), Mrs. Castor told how her daughter spent New Year's Eve.

WITH HER HUSBAND at Cape Canaveral, Annie Glenn had been invited to numerous big New Year's parties in the Washington area. But instead, she went to church with her children for the midnight watch and candle service.

She had "so many things to be thankful for," she told her mother. Dr. and Mrs. Castor commented that the public has no conception of the amount of work and study required of the astronauts. They said John literally has worked day and night since the beginning of the program—an arduous two-year grind.

BUT THEY'RE sure he has the sense of humor to "handle the job." They described as a "typical Johnny comment" his answer when he was asked if he thought he could take the capsule around the earth.

John replied, they recall, that he was "sure I can do it as well as the monkey did."

Mrs. Castor said John and Annie plan everything together and Annie backs her husband in everything, if it's what he wants to do.

John, in turn, wants his family to be in on everything. He even asked special permission for his family to see the interior of the capsule after it was mounted on the Atlas on Pad 14, from where it will be launched.

AS WE SAID goodbye to Dr. and Mrs. Castor and walked down the steps which I had climbed many times in the past to call upon my future wife and which John Glenn had climbed even more times to call on his sweetheart I found the circumstances which had occasioned the visit almost incredible.

I contemplated the mathematical probability of my knowing, in such a way, the one man selected from the millions of American men to orbit the earth. The thought was staggering.

But facts are facts and fate is fate and so, shaking my head in credulous acceptance, I drove on down the street to visit John's parents.

Scientists Hear of Radioactive Peril To Space Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—A handful of radioactive material, weighing about a pound and scattered over billions of miles of space, is a distinct hazard to manned space flight, scientists say.

They gathered at Goddard Space Flight Center in nearby Greenbelt, Md., to evaluate the radioactivity information that satellite Explorer XII transmitted before suddenly going silent last Dec. 6. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported on the conference Friday.

The gist of the report:

1. The Van Allen radiation belt, instead of being two distinct doughnut-shaped rings encircling the earth, is one large region with varying amounts of deadly radiation. The belt's lower limit is 400 miles above the Atlantic Ocean, and its outer limit fluctuates from 28,000 to 44,000 miles above the earth.

2. Beyond the belt is an area of magnetic turbulence about 12,000 miles wide. After that—interplanetary space.

They said the radiation hazard to space travel was still as great as estimated since Dr. James Van Allen first discovered the widespread area that bears his name.

The greatest amount of deadly high energy protons is in the lower regions of the belt, they said.

Dr. Frank B. McDonald, cosmic ray expert at the space agency, said the belt was something like a giant garbage heap with the heavier garbage sinking to the bottom.

But all the radioactive material, if it could be concentrated, would weigh about a pound and could be held in the palm of one hand, the scientists said.

Explorer XII, launched last Aug. 15, made 102 round trips through the radiation area, orbiting between 148 and 48,000 miles above the earth, before it suddenly stopped transmitting.

In a Polish language broadcast Friday night, Moscow radio asserted that unity of the world Communist movement "is needed as never before."

Radio Moscow also announced the end of a Moscow conference of district Communist party organizations and central committee delegates from throughout the Soviet Union. It said the emphasis during the three-day meeting was on implementation of decisions reached at the 22nd party congress. These decisions, in effect, were Khrushchev's.

Keep Walks Shoveled, Postmaster Appeals

With one postman already confined to Salem City Hospital with a broken leg received earlier this week when he fell on an icy walk on E. Fifth St., Acting Postmaster R. J. Reasbeck today urged residents to keep their walks free of ice and snow to prevent similar accidents.

Substitute carrier Robert F. Wilson of RD 2, Salem, suffered a leg fracture when he slipped and fell.

The postmaster said that while other mailmen have fallen, this is the only serious accident that has occurred but with the current snow and ice it makes it difficult for the carriers to make their rounds if patrons do not keep their walks clean.

Council to Borrow For Street Dept.

Salem City Council will hold a special meeting Tuesday night to pass an ordinance to borrow sufficient funds to meet the street department payroll.

Fred Koenreich, chairman of Council's finance committee, said the meeting was called after City Auditor Helen Coyne warned yesterday that the street fund balance was only $1,207 and that a state distribution of gasoline tax revenue would not be forthcoming until Spring.

As of Jan. 1, the fund had a balance of $8,038, but there were outstanding bills totaling $11,247, the auditor said.

The street department payroll each two weeks amounts to between $2,000 and $2,300.

This resolution of the crisis apparently eliminates the Dominican Republic as a problem that would have occupied much behind-the-scenes discussion at the meeting. The new government under Rafael Bonnelly is considered here to be strongly anti-Castro and officials believe it can be counted on to vote for sanctions if that issue reaches the conference floor.

U.S. officials said there was a high degree of accord among the American governments, all of which will be represented at the conference, on the grave nature of the Castro problem and on the need to do something about it.

Serious disagreement exists, however, on what should be done.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

My Most Unforgettable Character

One of the most interesting and wisest men I have known in my lifetime was the late Harlowe B. Andrews of Syracuse, New York. He was a gnarled, kindly, shrewd and devout old man. I can see him yet peering over his glasses which always rested half-way down his nose. And when he spoke he said some things you never forgot.

He'd had only three years of schooling up in Tully Valley. Some thought this was his good fortune — never to have had the native wisdom educated out of him. He was a one hundred percent practicing Christian. The Bible was his library of school books and he knew it almost word for word.

Brother Andrews, as everyone called him, had a keen, inquisitive and creative mind which he was always using. For example, he had a big family and daily observed the huge pile of dishes after meals. He got to wondering if there wasn't some better and faster way of washing dishes, and began experimenting with a machine. And despite his wife's complaints that he was breaking most of the dishes, he succeeded in building one of the first automatic dish washers.

HE WAS A wholesale grocer by trade and his firm, Andrews Brothers, operated the first supermarket in the United States. Away back in the nineties he bought perishable goods in California, expressed them east by train and four days later they were for sale on Salina Street in his store. He sported the fanciest spanking team of horses in Syracuse, and used to race them down Genesee Street to the plaudits of admiring citizens, many of whom sat equally enthralled in his Bible class on Sundays at University Methodist Church.

Once I had to raise a church debt of approximately $55,000 which seemed pretty large to me. Feeling quite discouraged I went to see Brother Andrews about raising this money. Sizing me up over his glasses, he said, "First you've got to raise it in your thoughts. Right now you are seeing yourself failing. Unless you begin seeing yourself as succeeding, you'll never get the money. You need a mental revise, my boy."

Brother Andrews never attacked a problem without first praying about it. He was always talking about the Lord, asking Him how and what to do. And I'm sure that's exactly where his wisdom came from. Divine guidance filtered accurately through the receptive, believing mind of this fabulous old man.

"Come on, son, let's not sit around here talking about something we don't know anything about. Get down on your knees."

THEN HE STARTED TO pray. I remember his prayer almost verbatim. Brother Andrews never addressed the Lord with the formal "Thee" and "Thou," nor did he use traditional prayer vernacular. He talked directly to the Deity calling Him "You." It always reminded me of Moses to whom the "Lord spake unto face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend."

"Now, Lord," he said, "we need your help. This young preacher has to raise $55,000 but he is licked from the start because he is licked in his thoughts. So, Lord, wash all those old dull negative thoughts out of his mind and get him going confidently and trusting You for help."

"Now, Lord, where are we going to get the money? Tell you what, Lord, I'll give $5,000 myself (Brother Andrews always believed in helping the Lord) if Norman will go out and get the rest of it. Thanks, Lord. Amen."

BEWILDERED by this turn of events, I asked, "But how are we going to get the rest of it?"

"Just how you got the first $5,000," he replied with a grin. "You prayed for it and you got it, didn't you?" the grizzled old man grunted at me.

"But," I queried, astonished at such practical faith, "who will I see now for gifts? I don't know where to start."

"Well, when you don't know something just ask the Lord and He'll tell you. So get down on your knees again."

He placed a blank sheet of paper in front of himself. "Now, Lord, please give us the name of a man who will appreciate the opportunity of giving to Your work." There was a long silence and then Brother Andrews said, "Thanks, Lord," and he wrote a name on the paper.

"Norman, go down and see that man," he said. "Go believing in God, in yourself and in that man." Fortified by Brother Andrews I made the call and received a sizable pledge. When I reported it later, the grand old man chuckled and said, "You can when you think you can. So see that you always think you can."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Salem Downs Niles 67-60 For Second Win in Big 8 Play

West Branch Nips United 43-41 In Conference Battle

4 Locals Hit In Double Figures; Borrelli High

By LYNN BROWNE
News Sports Writer

Coach John Cabas' Salem Quakers put down a third period rally and went on to dump the Niles Red Dragons 67-60 Friday night at Niles. It was the second Big 8 tilt of the season for the locals.

The win was the 10th in 11 starts for the Quakers and the seventh loss in 10 outings for their hosts. The Dragons now stand 1-3 in loop competition with other losses to Canton McKinley and Massillon and a win over Alliance. Salem's first conference tilt was a win over the Warren Harding Panthers.

Salem's win came at the foul line despite the fact that they

Co-captain Bob Eskay did a creditable job, swishing the nets with 12 points despite the fact he played less than a half due to a back injury.

"Our bench is what saved us," Cabas said. "The kids coming off the bench helped us out a whole lot. I thought 'Hoss' (Jerry Wonnas), Borrelli, (Sam) Watson and (Gary) Jeffries all did a real fine job."

"NILES WAS a fired - up ball club," the coach said. "In the third period, when we had our lull, they really got enthused."

The head mentor went on saying, "Every team we play is 'up' for us; everybody wants to beat a winner."

Joe Bassett, Niles head coach, felt that the first half is what hurt them. "We had a real bad first half," he said. "We couldn't run with the ball and when we can't run it hurts us. We're too small."

Niles' scoring-ace Rick Sygar was unable to practice all week because of a sprained ankle. Bassett said. The all-state football player did connect for 11 tallies however. Carmen Vivola shouldered the scoring burden for the Dragons, garnering 14 counters.

Class AA Sectional Drawings Set

Drawings for the Class AA Sectional basketball tournaments to be played at Struthers Field House and South High Field House in Youngstown will be held Monday, Feb. 12, at 8 p.m. at the Volney Rogers Junior High in Youngstown, according to David M. Williams, tournament director.

The two winners in the Youngstown bracket will play the two winners from the Struthers bracket in the District Tourney at South High Field House March 8-10.

No bands or musical instruments will be allowed at the playoffs by order of the District Board, Williams reported. Officials for the games will be announced at the drawing, he added.

connected on only 15 of 23 free throws for 61 per cent. Each team connected for 26 floor shots but the Dragons collected only eight points at the foul stripe. They had 14 attempts.

Cabas has said before, that a team that isn't hitting 68 per cent of its foul shots isn't a good ball club.

THE QUAKERS displayed a well-balanced scoring attack as four of the starters ended the game in double figures. John Borrelli led the attack as he riddled the nets with five floor-shots and six charity tosses for 18 counters.

Junior Bob King provided the most pleasant surprise of the evening as he hit on seven of eight buckets and one foul shot for 15 counters. Most of his goals were "swishers" from the corner and brought his evening's total way above the six point average he accumulated during the first ten games. Bill Beery was next high with 13 points, including five of six attempted free throws in the crucial fourth period.

IN THE FIRST period the Dragons were unable to get the "lid" off and the Quakers sped to an 8-0 lead before Niles got into the scoring column. Salem held a 24-13 advantage at the end of the period.

The second period saw the two teams trade buckets in the early minutes with the locals moving ahead by 14 midway in the quarter and leading 39-26 at intermission.

Salem's "lull" came in the third stanza as Niles poured in 21 points while holding the locals to 13. Salem went into the final period with only a five-point lead but out-lasted their opponents to claim the win.

Cabas will have a week to work with his charges before sending them into action at Wellsville next Friday against Coach Jack McDevitt's Bengals.

Rich Sweitzer Suffers Broken Wrist

Jayvees' Win Streak Halted At 25; Lose To Niles 70-62

The Salem Reserves had their win streak snapped at 25 last night by the Niles Jayvees 70-62 but Coach Karl Zellers said that wasn't the most important thing he lost at Niles.

Junior Rich Sweitzer, who was in the starting lineup for the first time last night, suffered a broken left wrist as he fell while trying to avoid committing a foul with 6:17 seconds left in the first half.

"Rich was really coming," Zellers said. "He showed more improvement than anyone and was just starting to get his confidence."

Zellers attributed the loss to the fact that Sweitzer was injured. "He was carrying the load for us. When we lost him we didn't have anyone to pick it up," he said.

"I'm sure he won't let it get him down," Zellers continued. "I know he'll come back to play a lot of ball for us. If not this year then next with the varsity."

Team physician, Dr. R. J. McConner, said today Sweitzer may be able to begin practicing again in about six weeks.

Zellers commented that if it hadn't been for Marlin Waller they "might as well have gone home" after they lost Sweitzer. Waller, the reserve squad's leading scorer with 151 points, had his best game of the season, hitting 26 points.

"We've been missing too many fouls and too many layups and been playing too poor on defense," the coach said. "We've gotten away with it against the other teams but this was too good a squad."

Salem moved to a 20-18 lead at the end of the first stanza but was down 36-32 at the half. The game moved into the final stanza with the hosts ahead 53-46.

The Quakers will return to action next Friday night at Wellsville.

Bulldogs Continue Unbeaten

Early Poland Rally Sends Columbiana To 59-52 Loss

Poland High School's undefeated basketball team knocked over one more hurdle in its quest for the Tri-County cage crown as it downed the Columbiana Clippers 59-52 Friday night on the Poland hardwood.

The Bulldogs have now moved way out in front in the loop race with a 6-0 mark and are 10-0 for the season. The Clippers suffered their third loss in 10 starts and are now 4-2 in the league.

A tough defense by Poland in the first half spelled defeat for Coach Rich Berryman's Clips, with the league-leaders pulling away to a 21-3 first period bulge and 37-15 at halftime. The Clipper attack began to roll in the second half to cut the Poland third-quarter lead to 52-33, but the early margin was too much to overcome.

Poland's Bill Zimmer and Columbiana's Paul Schulz led the scoring parade with 18 points apiece. Also in double figures was the Bulldogs' Tim Walter with 14 and Dave Barnhizer with 12, and the Clippers' Jim Ward with 13 and Dale Murphy with 10.

Statistic-wise Columbiana hit on 21 of 53 shots from the field for a 39.6 percentage and 10 of 15 fouls for a 66.6 average, while Poland meshed 22 of 62 fielders for a 35.5 average and 15 of 24 charity tosses for a 62.5 percentage.

Columbiana's Reserves turned the tables in the preliminary contest with a 35-41 decision over the Poland Jayvees.

Both schools will see Tri-County League action again tonight, with the Clippers entertaining Louisville and Poland traveling to Leetonia.

Lisbon Loses 6th 59-57 At Minerva

Coach Gary Pike's Lisbon High School cage squad went down to its sixth defeat in 10 starts and fell to 3-3 in the Tri-County League, losing 59-57 at Minerva Friday night.

Although the game was close all the way, Minerva led at the conclusion of every quarter 14-13, 30-27 and 46-45.

Both squads displayed balanced scoring attacks with four players from each team hitting in double figures.

Dave McPherson paced Lisbon with 13 markers, while teammates Craig Pannier meshed 11 and Larry McPherson and Jeff Henry each 10.

Larry Simms of Minerva led both clubs in the scoring column with 15 tallies, followed by teammates Gary Nigro with 12 and Bob Wunderle and Dave Simms with 11 apiece.

Lisbon hit on 20 of 64 fielder tries for a 31.3 percentage, and meshed 17 of 32 foul attempts for a 53.1 average. Minerva dumped in 20 of 56 from the field for a 35.8 average, and managed 19 of 28 charity tosses for a 67.8 percentage.

The Minerva Reserves were also victorious in the preliminary game, winning 39-36 over the Lisbon Jayvees.

Both schools will be in Tri-County action again tonight, with Lisbon entertaining East Palestine and Minerva traveling to Sebring.

Warriors Record Now 9-1

West Branch High School's once-beaten cage team continued to stay close to league - leading Canfield in the Turnpike Conference race with a 43-41 squeaker triumph over arch-rival United High on the loser's court Friday night.

The loss for Coach Larry Joseph's Golden Eagles of United put them down at 2-3 in the loop and even at 5-5 over-all. Coach Joe Tucker's Warriors pushed their season count to 9-1 and 4-1 in the conference.

The United quintet, led by the shooting of center Jim Sturgeon and rebounding of forward Jerry Schaffer, pulled to a 11-10 first period lead. But the Warrior five began rolling in high gear to overcome the United aggressiveness and move to a 23-17 halftime advantage and 33-26 after three quarters.

Senior guard John Hanna of United led both squads in scoring with 18 points, while senior forward Dan Dennis was high for West Branch with 15 tallies.

United led in rebounding 33-30, with senior forward Chuck Wilson grabbing off 12 to lead the Warriors and Schaffer high for United with 11.

West Branch hit on 29.5 per cent from the field on 18 of 61 attempts and 38.9 per cent from the foul stripe on seven of 18 tries. United meshed 16 of 51 fielders for a 31.4 average and nine of 19 charity tosses for a 47.4 percentage.

In the preliminary game, the West Branch Jayvees were also victorious 61-34 over United's Reserves.

Both squads will be in conference action again tonight, with United traveling to Warren St. Mary's and West Branch playing at Springfield Local.

Lowellville Spoils Perfect Mark

Crestview Falls From Unbeaten List 46-40

Coach Bruce Weber's Crestview High School cage team fell from the ranks of the unbeaten and undoubtedly will lose ground on its seventh-place state ranking in Class A after suffering a surprising 46-40 setback at the hands of Lowellville on the loser's hard-wood Friday night.

A cold night from the field and a scrappy, pressing Lowellville quintet sent the Rebels to their first loss in 11 starts and evened their Inter-County League mark at 1-1. The Rockets are also 1-1 in the loop and have compiled a 4-6 over-all record.

Crestview was only able to hit on one fielder in the first period as Coach Dick Williams' Rockets moved to an early 10-6 bulge. Lowellville continued to shoot well and hustle in the second frame to hold the margin 24-19 at halftime. The count went to 38 - 30 Lowellville after three quarters.

Senior Earl Wolfgang was leading scorer for Crestview with 11 tallies, while Jim Mangine garnered 15 and Bob Pratt 11 for the winners. Crestview's Jim Kress, who had been averaging an even 20 points in 10 games, was held to nine markers.

The Lowellville Reserves were also victorious in the preliminary tilt with a 46-44 decision over the Crestview Jayvees.

Crestview will see action again tonight, traveling to Salineville. Lowellville will not play again until Jan. 26 at Western Reserve.

Wellsville Trounces Beaver Local Five

Coach Tom McCall's Beaver Local Beavers fell to their sixth loss in nine starts this season as the Wellsville Tigers waltzed to an easy 82-49 victory on the winner's court Friday night.

The Tigers, Salem's opponent next week, proved too much for the Beavers as they struck for a 28-16 lead in the initial quarter and then poured it on for margins of 51-26 at halftime and 71 - 32 after three periods.

Wellsville's Steve Baldwin took scoring honors in the game with 28 markers, while teammates Forrest Harris and Roger Ours garnered 14 each. Junior forward George Gaydos was the only Beaver in double figures with 19 tallies.

The Wellsville Reserves also dominated in the preliminary contest, winning 57-45 over the Beaver Local Jayvees.

The Beavers will see action again tonight at Newell, W. Va., with Wellsville's next tilt with Salem at home Jan. 26.

Dems' Chairman Says JFK Riding Surge of Popularity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic national chairman said today President Kennedy and the party were riding a surge of popularity, but he called for a stronger organization for the November election.

As nearly 6,000 of the party faithful gathered to honor the President on the first anniversary of his inauguration, the chairman, John M. Bailey, told the Democratic National Committee that the party mustn't lose its forward look.

"The American people have not gone right with the Republicans; the American people have gone forward with the Democrats," Bailey said in a speech prepared for a session to kick off the 1962 campaign.

Kennedy will address the dinner, along with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, former President Harry S. Truman, and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass. The President also arranged a luncheon for Truman, Johnson and others who will attend the dinner.

Party Treasurer Matthew McCloskey said he hoped to raise more than a half-million dollars at the dinner. This should leave the party with a debt of about a half-million, he said.

Bailey told the Democratic National Committee that opinion polls show the President now was far ahead of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's first-year popularity. He added that the Democratic party was more popular now than it was on the eve of "our congressional landslide in 1958."

After declaring the Democrats moved ahead in 1961 while the Republicans moved to the right, Bailey said: "However, despite the movement of GOP Chairman (William E.) Miller, Senate leader (Everett M.) Dirksen and House Leader (Charles A.) Halleck ever closer to the fanatic extremists, who are a little nervous about whether (Sen.) Barry Goldwater isn't just a little bit socialistic, the radical right is still a pretty lonely place."

Good Year For Holsteins

Last year was a good year for black and white cows, according to an annual progress report issued today by Robert H. Rumler, executive secretary of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The 263,614 new animals recorded marked the eighth consecutive year in which Holstein registrations outnumbered those of all other dairy breeds combined, he said.

Europe's smallest republic is San Marino, which has an area of 38 square miles.

SENTENCED FOR RAPE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Cleveland men who pleaded guilty to rape and kidnap of a Kent woman last July were sentenced to 9 to 55 years in prison. Common Pleas Judge Roy F. McMahon imposed consecutive terms Edwin M. Middlebrooks, 22, and Carl Harris, 24, for kidnaping and rape of the 33-year-old woman and aggravated assault on her escort.

A third man accused in the case goes on trial Monday. He is James E. Townsend, 24, of Cleveland.

YOUTH DIES IN CRASH

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — One teen-age boy was killed and his companion injured Friday night when their car skidded off icy Ohio 302 and overturned.

Killed was driver Rodney Woodruff, 18, of Moreland. Hospitalized is John A. Kirchhofer, 19, of Wooster.

Parking Meter Arrests Drop At E. Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Acting Chief of Police Wallace Dilworth today reported a decline in arrests from 1,044 in 1960 to 925 in 1961. The decline was in parking meter violations, he said.

Police investigated 60 vehicular accidents last year compared with 67 the year previous. No fatal accidents have occurred in the city since 1957.

Parking meter revenue dropped slightly from $4,986 in 1960 to $4,760 last year.

Mayor Robert Harding's report showed receipts in his office for last year of $8,127, compared with $8,517 for 1960.

MUST OKAY SHELTERS

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The city building inspector must inspect and approve family fallout shelters under a new ordinance approved by city Council.

In and About Our Schools

"Gardening - Indoors and Out," was announced as the theme for the coming year when the Garden Therapy Committee of the Salem Garden Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Betty Panzotti's special class at Fourth Street School.

Individual cigar-box desert gardens containing live cactus plants were made by the class, and a brief talk on how to care for them was presented by Mrs. John Botu, committee chairman.

Stressing the study of desert plants, members of the class examined a branch of a Joshua tree and desert rocks, and various cactus were drawn in the scrapbooks.

Mrs. Clifford Segesman, Mrs. E. S. Huffman, Mrs. F. W. Hone and Mrs. Harry Krohn are the new committee members and will meet with the class the third Thursday afternoon of each month.

"Birds" will be the subject for study at the Feb. 15 meeting and branches of flowering shrubs and plants will be brought to the classroom for forced blooming.

Man Sentenced for Massillon Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—Donald Eugene Collier, 29, of Canton, was sentenced Friday to seven years in prison for the $3,984 holdup of the Perry Heights branch of the Massillon State Bank Dec. 4.

U. S. District Judge Charles J. McNamee imposed the penalty on Collier, an unemployed steelworker and father of two.

Collier surrendered to police and FBI agents in an Akron bar the night of Dec. 4. Authorities already had found all but $1,000 of the loot in a garage at the home of Collier's parents in Perry Township, Stark County.

The branch manager and one employee were in the bank when the holdup man entered, threatened them with a revolver and emptied the contents of drawers of two teller's cages into a paper bag.

A motorist who had been passing the bank at the time of the holdup followed the getaway car. Police located the owner from the car's registration. The owner said he had loaned the vehicle to Collier, a friend.

NEEDS MORE LAND

CINCINNATI (AP) — City real estate experts say Cincinnati must acquire 84 more parcels of land before it can donate an 11-acre tract in the Queensgate slum clearance area for site of a federal tax data center. The city owns only 185 of 269 parcels in the area.

City Council had agreed to pay up to $900,000 to cover value of the 11-acre section. The proposed tax center would employ about 1,500.

SIGN AIR FORCE LEASE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The city's board of controls has signed a new lease for Air Force use of Youngstown Municipal Airport on revised terms set by the government.

Air Force officials requested reduced rent after the base was converted from an active fighter squadron to a reserve troop carrier operation.

TO DYNAMITE ICE JAM

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — State highway experts plan to continue dynamiting ice-jammed Twin Creek this weekend, aiming to unclog it before a thaw or rain causes flooding. The blasting, started earlier this week, cleared a 40-foot strip 1,900 feet upstream from where the stream empties into the Miami River.

A dozen families had been forced out of their homes by high water.
